MOONSHINERS SPRING SURPRISE: SAY GUILTY

DEFENDANTS IN FAMOUS MOON-SHINE CASE ADMIT
CONSPIRACY.

TO BE SENTENCED TOMORROW

(Associated Press)

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 20—John Casper, George Hartman, Chas. Brewbaker, J. Henry Brown, John Farrabee, S. L. Williams and John Coffey, who were placed on trial here today on charge of conspiracy to defraud the government by the manufacture of moonshine whiskey, sprung a surprise by pleading guilty. They will be sentenced tomorrow. The case against Fred Bowles was nolle prossed.

The defendants brought to trial in connection with the so-called Moonshine conspiracy number over a score—seven of them officials or former officials of the United States Internal Revenue Service. They were indicted by the federal grand jury last June.

The government authorities predict that out of the cases may grow a gigantic prosecution of many other men who, it is alleged, have swindled the government of the United States out of between ten and fifteen million dollars during the last ten years.

The alleged head of the conspiracy, John L. Casper, an officer of the Rush Distilling Co. of Kansas City who with Guy L. Hartman of Kansas City, Jas. C. Brewbaker of Fort Smith and others as charged with maintaining an illicit distillery at Fort Smith and with shipping thousands of gallons of spurious whiskey, manufactured at the plant, to the distilling company.

The six revenue officers are named with other defendants in a blanket indictment for conspiracy and one of them, Knox Booth, is accused of accepting bribes from Casper and Hartman. Booth was formerly superintendent of the Tennessee Revenue Division and was removed from office after the issue of his warrant. Government officers say he confessed and gave valuable information as to the workings of the alleged conspiracy.

NO OTHER NAVY WILL HAVE SHIP LIKE CALIFORNIA WHEN SHE IS COMPLETED.

[The keel of the superdreadnaught California, destined to be the greatest of battleships, was laid at the navy yard in Brooklyn. The event was an epoch in naval construction, and among those who participated were Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Rear Admiral Nathaniel R. Usher, commandant of the great yard in which the California will be rushed to completion; Rear Admiral Robert S. Griffin, the engineer in chief of the navy, and Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, chief of the bureau of construction in Washington. In his address Secretary Daniels said: "It may be said that the battleship California represents one of the greatest advances in modern marine engineering. Electric propulsion has been widely discussed in all countries for several years, but the United States is the only nation which has not past the discussion stage. For two years and a half the 30,000-ton collier Jupiter has been using the only electrical high power marine installation afloat. The California's sister ships, the new Mississippi and Idaho, building at Newport News and Camden respectively, will share with the California the distinction of being the largest battleships yet built or building for our navy. The California will cost completed about $15,000,000. The fourteen inch guns which she is to mount, having extreme range and greater striking power than any naval gun now in use, offer the advantage of allowing the mounting of twelve of them on a single ship, as against eight guns of the fifteen inch type which have been adopted by some other navies. With a length over all of 621 feet, a length on water line of 590 feet, and extreme breadth of 37 feet 4 1/2 inches, with a draft of 30 feet, a displacement of 32,000 tons and a speed of 21 knots, and with an armament, in addition to her twelve fourteen-inch high powered guns in four turrets, of a secondary battery of twenty-three five-inch rapid-fire guns, and with four submerged torpedo tubes capable of firing the largest type of torpedoes, the California will be one of the most formidable ships of war afloat." 1. (Associated Press)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20—What the navy expects to do toward preventing private manufacturers from reaping excessive profits on the expenditure of hundreds of millions involved in the administration's national defense program was outlined here today by Secretary Daniels in a speech at the North Carolina State Fair. Mr. Daniels said his annual report to congress would recommend legislation to enable the government to equip itself to build more naval craft, make its own armor plate and greatly extend manufacture of munitions.

"The government has invested many millions of dollars in the navy yards," said the secretary, "and unless this investment is utilized for new construction much of it is wasted. If the government is prepared to construct naval craft, private ship-building companies making contracts must compete with government yards. This tends to secure competitive prices and prevent the combination among private corporations to charge higher prices than conditions justify. "Not only must the yards be able to build ships but naval establishments should be equipped to make a portion of all munitions of war."

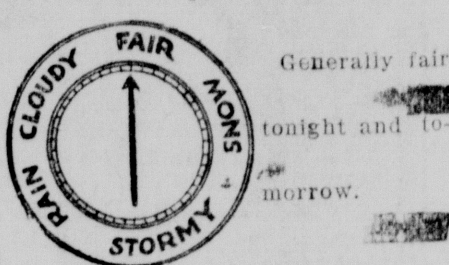

Cites Cost of Powder.

In this connection Mr. Daniels pointed out that the government paid 80 cents a pound to a private manufacturer a few years ago for making powder but the navy was now making it at a cost of about 25 cents a pound. Torpedoes and mines, he said, also were being manufactured by the navy at a great saving of money.

(Associated Press)

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 20—The latest returns from the state election yesterday indicate that the proposed constitutional amendment granting woman suffrage was defeated by a majority of more than 50,000. President Wilson's own precinct at Princeton defeated suffrage 2 to 1. The refusal of the men of New Jersey to share with the women the responsibility of governmental affairs, will, it is believed, have a far-reaching influence on equal suffrage campaigns now being carried on in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

The woman suffragists of New Jersey, one of the thirteen original states, who had made a valiant fight in a campaign that attracted much attention all over the country, were greatly disappointed over the result, as the promises they had received and as canvasses they made led the leaders of the cause to believe that they were surely going to win.

Did as Women Do About Ages.
The defeat of suffrage was due to the fact that many men, who told the

This morning at about 9 o'clock at the corner of North Galena avenue and Fellows street a street car and an automobile came together, the latter coming out second best, having the windshield, a fender and bows of the top broken.

The auto belonged to V. D. Newman of East Orange, N. J., who with a party of friends was touring the country. They came east on the Lincoln highway and neared the intersection of Galena avenue and Fellows street as a city car from the south came to a stop at the corner. According to his statement, Newman continued east on Fellows street and as he was crossing the tracks the car started and struck his machine. The street car was in charge of Motorman R. J. Fox.

WOMAN WAS STRUCK IN FACE BY BULLET

MRS. FRED DREW, RESIDING WEST OF CITY, NEAR BAD INJURY.

BULLET PLOWED SCAR ON NOSE

Mrs. Fred Drew, of the Sterling-Dixon road, was the victim of a peculiar accident which might have been more serious last week. As it is, she will probably bear for years the scar of a bullet wound on her nose.

Mrs. Drew was going toward the mail box on the highway when a rifle bullet struck her just above the eye, narrowly missing the eye and plowing a deep gash in her nose. A slight change in the course of the bullet would have meant the loss of sight in one eye. The bullet came, it is believed, from men who were seen hunting on the Drew farm back in the woods quite a distance from the road.

It would be well for hunters to keep in mind that other people may be in range of their bullets who may be seriously injured by a stray shot, and where they are given the privilege of hunting it surely devolves upon them to be very careful. Such a case as this naturally inflames the public mind and causes more discrimination against all hunters, careful and careless alike, and more trespassing signs go up with the accompaniment of fines to the hunters caught trespassing.

LAUNCH MOVEMENT FOR DOUGLAS NORTH AND SOUTH ROUTE

GRAND HIGHWAY THROUGH THE STATE TO BE PROMOTED BY NEW ASSOCIATION.

STARTED AT DIXON MEETING

Scheme Was Instituted At the Black
Hawk Trail Gathering
Tuesday.

The establishment of a marked highway through the center of the state starting from a point on the north state line north of Orangeville, traversing about through the middle of the state and terminating at Cairo to be designated as the "Douglas Route" was launched at the meeting of the good road enthusiasts held in this city Tuesday afternoon. A committee to work to the end of marking the highway through the northern three counties was named as follows: J. R. Cowley and Fred Barnhasser of Stephenson county; C. C. Beebe and J. T. McGrath of Ogle county; W. B. Brinton and A. B. Whitcombe of Lee county. J. R. Cowley of Freeport was selected chairman of the committee.

The following resolution was adopted at the meeting: "Be it moved, that the road starting from the state line north of Freeport and extending south to Dixon be designated as the 'Douglas Highway.' That the county superintendents of highways of Stephenson, Ogle and Lee counties be appointed to pick out the route and report it to the State Highway association. That it be the sense of the committee that the highway be continued from Dixon southerly through the state to Cairo. That the marker to be adopted for the said highway be a black letter D on a diamond pointed white."

Chairman Cowley of the committee will call a meeting a little later on to perfect plans for carrying out the work mapped out.

A Practical Route.

The having of a marked highway through the center of the state is a step in the right direction and it no doubt would be much used by the people of the state. The route planned would lead north from Freeport to Madison and to the lake region of Wisconsin. During the summer many tourists from this state make week end trips to the delightful spots along the chain of lakes in southern Wisconsin. From Dixon the route will follow the "Starved Rock" trail through Lee county to Ottawa.

"Black Hawk Trail"

As stated in the Telegraph last evening the committee selected to look after the marking of the "Black Hawk Trail" will meet in this city next Tuesday. This committee will work in conjunction with the organization that marked the River Valley route from Rock Island to Sterling. The proposed "Black Hawk Trail" will start at Davenport, Iowa, and continue through the counties of Rock Island, Whiteside, Lee, Ogle and Winnebago to Beloit, Wis. It will follow as closely to Rock river as the roads will permit. The route will be on the north side of the river from Rock Island to Dixon and from Dixon to Grand Detour will be on the south side of the river and then crossing to the north side at Grand Detour and continuing on the north side up to Rockton, from whence it will follow the south side again into Beloit, Wis.

GOOD NATURE.

Good nature is a combined strength and weakness of mind which enables a man to endure placidly a scolding wife, an aching tooth, a late train, a thievish office holder, a chronic hope and an insulting ticket agent, a small boy who has just asked a 1,111th question, an automobile suffering from mitisness and the telephone in all its phases and conditions.

Good nature is the breeding ground of laughter, the guardian of friendship, the lubricant of smooth running families, the solace of fat men, the anesthetic of misfortune and the curse of republics. With good nature a man can endure hard work, enjoy a large family, forget an insurgent corn and enjoy the jokes of Moses. Without good nature a man can possess twenty million dollars and get apoplexy because he has been short-changed 5 cents by a street car conductor. With good nature a man can run four blocks for a train that proves to be two hours late and enjoy telling the incident for a week. Without good nature, a man will reach a station fifteen minutes early and try to sue the railroad company because he had to wait for the gates to open. Trying to endure the complications of modern life without good nature is like trying to run an automobile without lubricating oil. The result is heat, noise, sorrow and disaster.

BAD COLD' HEADACHY AND NOSE STUFFED

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends colds and grippe in a few hours.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all grippie misery goes and your cold will be broken. Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

PLANS TO REPEAT PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION

John E. Moyer, 84 Galena avenue, intends if possible during the present season to make arrangements with the Edison Laboratories to duplicate the unique experiment that is to be made next week at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, when "Miss Christine Miller, the celebrated concert contralto, will appear before officials of the exposition and invited guests to sing a number of her favorite songs in comparison with Mr. Edison's re-creation of her voice on his new invention—the Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph. The object of this experiment is to demonstrate whether Edison has in fact realized his ambition to re-create music so perfectly that the re-creation cannot be distinguished from the original. In the tone test at San Francisco Miss Miller will sing in unison with the Edison record of her voice, will then pause, and sing again. It is said that in a darkened room it is impossible to tell when the artist ceases to sing so perfect is the reproduction. The same test has been made with Alice Verlet, Anna Case, Albert Spalding, Thomas Chalmers and Elizabeth Spencer. Mr. Moyer hopes to arrange for the appearance of one of these artists at a private hearing before the musicians of this city.

DEMENTTOWN DOINGS

THE FLIVVER'S REVENGE

(De-composed by the office nut)
A party of gay tramp musicians. On a bright moonlight night went to play
For a dance in a neighboring village (Quite some distance, by the way). They engaged a boy with a flivver, (Though they knew it would shake up their liver)
And piled in with joy, for they knew well the boy
Could take them away from Rock river,
The dance it was over, and with jeans full of bills
The flivver right merrily raced o'er the hills.
The air it was brisk and the party was gay
For they had something along to drive care away.
When nearing the river, in deep, sandy lands,
The flivver it sneezed and threw up its hands;
The musicians piled out in sorrow and woe,
There were bad roads to hike—a long way to go.
The flivver's there yet, for all we can say,
And in it the stuff "to drive care away."

MAYOR THOMPSON IN HOT DEF TO CERMAK

Demands Wet Leader Be Fired As Court Bailiff.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Mayor William Hale Thompson, back in Chicago from a fifteen days' trip to California, was boomed for president at two mass meetings arranged in his honor by the dries on account of his Sunday closing order. The first meeting was held at Cohan's Grand Opera House, where Arthur B. McCord, leader of the dry movement, introduced him as the "man of the hour and the only logical candidate for the presidency."

To Anton J. Cermak, president of the United Societies for Local Self Government and head of the only organized opposition to Mayor Thompson and his Sunday closing order, he sent his respects in no uncertain tones.

"Cermak, as you have publicly demanded that an official disobey the law, you should yourself give assurance that you will obey the law or withdraw from your position as bailiff of the municipal courts," said the Mayor to two audiences.

However, he called Chief Justice Henry Olson's attention to the attitude of the court bailiff, and asked that that official take official cognizance of it in "such action as is deemed proper."

Italy Declares War on Bulgaria—Nish Admits Retreat from Two Towns—Declares it for Strategic Purposes—Russia Perfects Scheme for Attacks in Balkans.

Paris, Oct. 20.—An Italian squadron is en route for the near East under sealed orders, according to a Brindisi dispatch. It is supposed this squadron is to participate in the blockade of the Bulgarian coast.

London, Oct. 20.—Serious reverses for the Serbian forces, both in the north, where the Austro-German army is striking, and in the southeast, where the Bulgarians are aiming their heaviest blows, are announced in official statements from Berlin and admitted in part by the war office report from Nish.

Military authorities here, however, found some consolation in Italy's action in declaring war upon Bulgaria. This is taken to mean prompt assistance to the allied cause in the Balkans, though the nature of such assistance is still under debate.

Russ Plans Complete. England, France, Italy and Serbia have now formally declared war upon Bulgaria and dispatches from Petrograd indicate that the Russian plans for a campaign against the Bulgarians are practically complete and a declaration of war and a heavy blow will result simultaneously in a few hours.

Berlin officially announces the Bulgarian capture of Vranja, on the Saloniki-Nish railroad, and the capture of the City of Obrenovatz, near the border west of Belgrade, by Austro-German troops. The Serbian war office admits retreat from Kotechana and Istib, in Southern Serbia, where the Bulgarians are striking terrific blows. Details of the German statement indicate an advance south of Belgrade about fifteen miles, but it is apparent that the Serbians are making a desperate resistance in this section. Their retreat is explained by the war office as forced by the necessity of taking positions which will be more easily defended, and as such a likelihood has been forecast for several days this explanation is given weight.

French Cut Off. The Serbian army in the north, which is engaged on a front south of the Drina, Save and Danube Rivers, is cut off from further Anglo-French reinforcements.

When the Bulgarians occupied Vranja, in the valley of the Morava River, they not only cut the railway, but got between the Serbs in the north and the Anglo-French forces that have just entered Southern Serbia.

Italy's formal entrance into the hostilities in the Balkan theater followed reports that a secret treaty had been effected binding Italy to help the entente powers in the Balkans in consideration for Balkan interests which Italy will acquire on the eastern side of the Adriatic if the quadruple entente wins.

A little before one o'clock this bulletin was issued at Downing Street: "The Prime Minister is suffering from an attack of gastro-intestinal catarrh which will necessitate a few days of complete rest."

OLD AND NEW WAY TO TREAT CATARRH

Breathing a Germ Killing Air Endorsed by Actual Results.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were drugs, sprays, lotions, etc. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of your throat and head a balsamic air that goes into the minutest cells, and should effectually kill all germs and microbes of catarrh. Its purpose is to enter the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restore health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been helped by Hyomei.

A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters, is the fact that Rowland Bros. have so much faith in Hyomei that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve.

Phidian Art Club

The program of Tuesday afternoon's Phidian Art club meeting, held with Mrs. and Miss Petersberger, was opened by Miss Marjorie Wingert with "The Lotus Flower" by Schumann given in Miss Wingert's rich contralto voice. Her encore was "Faith in Spring," a beautiful thing by Schubert. Mrs. L. E. Edwards played Miss Wingert's accompaniment. Miss Hitchcock's paper, "Historic Boston," was most comprehensive. Situated on three hills and named after a town in Lincolnshire, England. It is the most English of American cities. Miss Hitchcock spoke of various edifices of historic interest: the old state house; Faneuil Hall; Paul Revere's home; the Old Corner Bookstore; King's Chapel—the first Episcopal church in this country—and of the organ of the chapel, the first pipe organ used in this country and said to have been selected by Handel, the great composer; and the old Granary cemetery and the Copp's Hill cemetery, where are the graves of many of our forefathers of prominence. Miss Hitchcock closed the paper with a splendid tribute to men who laid the strong foundations of our nation and bequeathed us an heritage of great achievement.

Miss Elizabeth Raymond delighted the club with several beautiful piano numbers. It is seldom that one so young plays with such perfection of expression. Her numbers were: "The Morning Mood," by Grieg; "Rustle of Spring," Finland; and as an encore, "As in a Dream," Frontini.

The second paper of the afternoon "Colonial Arts and Architecture," was given by Mrs. H. U. Bardwell. This was a most interesting dissertation of the painting of the Colonial artists, as representative of the Fine Arts, and of spinning and weaving as representative of the Domestic arts. The paper was closed with a discussion of Colonial Architecture.

Then, in behalf of the class, Mrs. Rowe presented Mrs. Stone with a Dixon souvenir spoon in a few words of appreciation of what Mrs. Stone has meant to the church people as a minister's wife and as an individual friend. Mrs. Stone thanks for the gift and the sentiment expressed and told of her regret at leaving. TWO MORE BIG HIGHWAYS.

Dixon is to be a tourists' headquarters indeed if plans under foot mature. And there is no reason why they should not. The old town that was in the early frontier days the stopping place for pioneer travelers in their "desert ships" and their ox teams and where ran the trails that carried the hardy souls who were plunging off into the wilderness of the west and northwest, is becoming more and more prominent every day on the maps of the automobile routes. Dixon is one of the important cities on the Lincoln Highway, and it is known as the first night's stopping place out of Chicago on that great national road.

Dixon is also, or rather has been for some time, the terminus of the Starved Rock Trail, for it is at Dixon that the Starved Rock Trail branches off the Lincoln Highway and runs south to LaSalle. Dixon is also prominent as the important city at the fountain head of the Rock River Valley route, which runs from Grand Detour to Rock Island, along the banks of the beautiful Rock river.

A convention held in Dixon yesterday, attended by men of importance from four counties, resulted in the decision to organize and start a movement for a new state highway, to be known as the Douglass Highway, which will commence at the Illinois-Wisconsin line, in Stephenson county, near Orangeville, will run straight south through Freeport, Forreston, Polo, Waukegan, Dixon, Lee Center, Shaw Station, Mendota, etc., following the Starved Rock Trail from Dixon to LaSalle, and thence running south to the southernmost extremity of the state. The Douglass Highway will parallel the Illinois Central railway from Wisconsin to Cairo. It will become the great state highway in Illinois and will be tributary to more citizens of the state than any other route that could be marked out. It will be nearly four hundred miles in length and will go through a country that is rich in production and thickly populated. It will be a great feeder to the Lincoln Highway, there can be no doubt of that. And Dixon must be benefited from both ends of the highway.

The convention further decided to extend the Rock River Valley route so that it would run from Davenport, Iowa, to Beloit, Wis., following the north shore of Rock river from Rock Island to Dixon, crossing the river at Dixon and following the south shore to Grand Detour, where it will again cross the river and follow the north shore through Oregon, Byron and Rockford to Rockton, where it will cross the river and swing over to Beloit. This route is to be known as "The Black Hawk Trail" and will traverse the historic old Indian play grounds and battlefields, following the valley of the peerless Rock the entire distance. This trip will be without question, the most scenic and most marvelously beautiful automobile tour that can be taken in the middle western states. There is nothing west of the Allegheny mountains nor east of the Rockies that can beat the trip through the valley of the Rock River, "The Hudson of the West."

Both of these highways will not only fill an industrial need and meet the demand of tourists, but will have deep historic interest attached. The Douglass Highway will follow the line of the Illinois Central, the road he made pay a portion of its earnings into the state treasury instead of taxes, when he was a member of the state legislature. It will also traverse the route taken during the Lincoln-Douglass debates, known over the nation. The "Little Giant" was a big man in Illinois and it is as fitting that the great and typical state highway should be named for him as is that the one real national highway should be named for his greater rival, Mr. Lincoln.

Dixon should take a great interest in the work on these two new highways. Their success means more to Dixon than it does to any other city on either route, for they both come here. Dixon is the hub for the noted highways that will branch out in all directions like the spokes of a wheel and it will be truly said that "All Roads Lead to Dixon."

FARMERS AND THE STOCK PLAGUE.

Few persons who have never witnessed the blighting effects of the dread foot and mouth disease can imagine the desolation it brings to the premises of the farmer whose herd has succumbed to the infection. And only the stock raiser who has seen his carefully tended herd shot down and buried under quick lime in a trench can appreciate the depressing effect of a visit from the plague. Certainly nobody is more keenly interested in stamping out this malady than the farmer and stockman himself. Why, then, with the federal and state governments working arduously to check it, does the foot and mouth plague still spread? The Prairie Farmer insists that carelessness is the answer. It says:

It spreads because people will not stay at home. Farmers from the infected districts get together around the stores in the evening. They are playing with dynamite, for gatherings in infected territory are almost sure to spread the disease.

Reports continue to come in of farmers breaking quarantine, even to the extent of moving stock from quarantined farms under cover of night. This is all wrong. It is carelessness, about obeying quarantines, lack of interest and public sentiment, that is spreading the dreaded disease from farm to farm.

It is time for everyone in the closed districts to make quarantine enforcement his personal business. Make a special effort to talk with your neighbors who are not as well informed about the disease as you are. Tell them that they are wronging their neighbors and the whole state when they disregard quarantine regulations. Call the inspectors on the slightest symptom in your own herd or your neighbor's. Don't try to cover up the disease. You might as well try to cover up a prairie fire.

Let's get together, shoulder to shoulder. This is war—deadly, earnest. We cannot afford to rest until the disease is wiped out.

This is sensible advice from good authority. It is time the farmers and the governmental representatives quit quarreling about quarantine regulations, and entered upon a campaign of genuine co-operation.

It takes a Rake to gather a crop of wild oats.

CURRENT COMMENT

Quincy Whig: If Governor Duane has decided to run again, he should make the canvass strictly on the merits of his administration and nothing else. The third party ticket was calculated to be of big benefit to Roger Sullivan last year, but Senator Sherman was returned winner in a close race and there is very much less evidence of Progressive strength now than there was a year ago. Winning on a divided Republican vote is a trick which can be turned once and possibly twice successfully, but after that it is questionable.

"WHITE SLAVE" Foe HELD FOR EXTORTION

Ray F. Barnett, Federal Attorney, Indicted at Danville, Ill.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 20.—An indictment and the arrest of Attorney Ray F. Barnett on charges of extortion caused a sensation. He was indicted on eight counts and furnished bonds aggregating $1,000. He holds a position known as "white slave officer" connected with the federal district attorney's office, whose duties are to keep a record of the addresses and movements of women of the underworld and report slave cases for prosecution.

He is charged with having collected money weekly from a large number of these women for protection against prosecution.

Following his release on bond Barnett stated that he had collected some money from the women as a favor to a legal firm to whom they were indebted. He declared he was confident of being able to prove his innocence.

NAVY TO HAVE OWN MUNITION FACTORIES

"These cases should be multiplied," he added. "Do not understand me to advocate any monopoly by the government in the manufacture of munitions. There are many things we can buy from private manufacturers at a reasonable price. The navy, however, should be free to make a large part of its own munitions if private concerns charge excessive prices as has sometimes been the case when the government is shut up to buy from only two or three manufacturers.

Armor Plate Prices.

It has been ascertained by a special commission that the navy, with a modern plant, can manufacture armor from $230 to $260 as against the non-competitive prices of $425 to $486 a ton charged in the last contract. Experience in Europe teaches that the navy should no longer rely upon private manufacturers for projectiles. * * * And, if congress approves we will erect a large factory which will turn out a large product of 14-inch armor-piercing shells as well as smaller projectiles. This will insure better shells and better competition."

The secretary particularly directed the attention of southern farmers to the lack of ships in the American merchant marine to carry their produce to those who need it and are willing to pay for it.

"What the navy needs and, in case of trouble would sorely need," he added, "are auxiliaries properly built and equipped with trained Americans. A merchant marine with foreign crew is not an American need, either for commerce or defense."

Explaining why a five year building program for the navy was decided upon, Mr. Daniels said:

"Wise men, in and out of the navy believe that the program, involving an expenditure of five hundred million dollars, will give us a navy well proportioned and far better than so large a program if it should be authorized by piece-meal, year by year. The program is based upon all that could be learned by naval experts in Europe and our naval statesmen in America."

Hope that an international understanding eventually might be reached by the naval powers was expressed by the secretary. "I trust," he said, "that this country will take the initiative and that steps will be taken by a conference of all the powers to discuss reduction of the heavy cost of the army and navy."

E. R. Scott and wife were down from Freeport yesterday afternoon.

Miss Grace Crawford went to Natchua this morning to spend the day.

TWO U. S. MEN DIE IN MEXICAN HOLDUP

Five Americans Shot In Train Robbery on Texas Side,

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 20.—A south-bound passenger train on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad was attacked by Mexican bandits near Alamo, seven miles north of here, and the passengers robbed. The train was wrecked and the bandits, twenty Mexican followers of Luis De La Rosa, a revolutionary leader, in escaping into Mexico, killed two men, mortally wounded another and injured less seriously four others.

The dead are: Corporal McBee, third U. S. cavalry, and H. H. Kendall, who was pinned beneath the engine when it left the rails. The injured are: Dr. W. S. McCain, deputy state health officer at Brownsville, probably mortally injured; Harry J. Wallis, shot in arm; R. Woodhall, freeman, scalded and bruised; Claude J. Brisshear, troop A, 6th cavalry, shot in jaw; C. H. Laymon, troop D, 3rd cavalry, shot in neck and leg. The troops were part of a detachment which engaged the bandits after the holdup.

The bandits dressed in khaki uniforms, brought the train to a stop by removing spikes from the rails. After the robbery the robbers burned the trestle to the north of them to prevent the prompt arrival of troops from San Benito.

Ten Mexicans have been killed by posse scouring the country for alleged complicity in the holdup and murders.

Miss Della McGrail, 507 College Ave., Dixon, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had pains through my back and sides. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me." (Statement given May 21st, 1912.) On January 21st, 1915, Miss McGrail said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been permanent." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss McGrail had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MEDITATION.

I often sit me down and think about the faults of others; it seems all men are on the blink, my poor, weak, erring brothers. It makes my spirits fall so low, I cuss in Greek and Flemish; I am the only gent I know who has no moral blemish.

I see a hundred loathsome traits in all my passing neighbors; they all keep up their selfish gait, and greed inspires their labors. They're toiling in the early dawn, they're toiling in the gloaming; to nail a coin, so help me John! the whole town they are combing. And I alone have sense to sit here in my fig tree's shadow and watch the others throw a fit and strive for Eldorado. 'Tis true my neighbors hand me roasts until the air is hazy, and say I'd join the toiling hosts, but that I'm too blamed lazy.

I see my neighbors spend their cash for fine imported raiment; for plumes and furs and kindred trash they're always making payment. They wear their earnings on their backs and follow fashion's phases, while I sit here as tight as wax and moralize like blazes. Oh, what's the use of princely garb and furbelows and sables? They are the harbingers that have of soup and poorhouse tables. Oh, what's the use of wearing bone and straining thews and muscles, if all the money earned is blown for Grecian bends and bustles? I sit beneath my pumpkin tree and think of these things always; an old horse blanket covers me—that and my sorrel galvays. My neighbors see me, and again it makes them sore and grouchy; they say I'd dress like other men, but that I'm too darned slouchy.

I see my neighbors buying cars when they can't well afford them; some day, behind the rusty bars, the sheriff gent will board them. I have a trusty pair of limbs, with which I have no quarrel; they do not call for tires or rims or petrol by the barrel. As I sit here upon my bench, those good old legs I'm wearing; I do not need a monkey wrench when they demand repairing. Of course they have an outward curve and don't stack up for beauty, but they're as good as I deserve and always prompt for duty. Oh, why do men buy motor cars, to fix and clean and burnish, when they have legs that all the marts of all the world can't furnish? My neighbors hear me say this thing—and many times I've said it—and say, "He'd buy a car, by jing! but he's outworn his credit!"

And thus philosophers they josh, the sordid worldly rabble; they hear our truths and say they're bosh and call our maxims gabble.—By Wall Mason from Judge.

SECRET OF BREATHING WELLS.

Due to Changes in Atmospheric Pressure or in Temperature.

The United States Geographical Survey has on hand the investigation of curious phenomena known as "blowing" or "breathing" wells. In the course of collecting well records, the hydrologists of the survey have observed many wells that emit currents of air with more or less force, sometimes accompanied by a whistling sound which can be heard for a long distance.

The best known examples of this type of well are found throughout the State of Nebraska. Blowing wells are also known to occur in Rapides Parish, in Southern Louisiana. The force of the air currents in one of the Southern Louisiana wells is sufficient to keep a man's hat suspended above it.

The cause of such phenomena is mainly due to changes in atmospheric pressure or to changes in temperature. During the progress of a low barometer storm over these regions, the air is expelled from the blowing wells. With a rising barometer the blowing becomes rapidly less until the current is finally reversed.

Differences in the temperature of the surface air and the air in the soil also produce similar effects. When the interstices between the grains of sand, gravel, etc., in which the well is driven are filled with water, the phenomena of blowing is much less noticeable.—St. Louis Republic.

COOKING FISH IN CLAY.

Improves Flavor and Keeps Flesh Firm and Hard.

"The natives of the North Woods have more appetizing ways to cook fish than any other class of cooks in the world, I believe," said Leonard Kehoe, of Tomah. "It surprises people who come into the fishing country to learn that there are so many ways of cooking fish. The universal favorite, however, seems to be the clay method.

"This is so simple that it is nearly always used when the cook can secure some good, firm clay. The fish is wrapped in the clay without having so much as a scale ruffled by the cleaning knife. He is not dressed, and the only seasoning is a pinch of salt placed in the mouth. When the fish is done up in the clay the package is placed in the embers of the camp fire to bake. When it is done the clay is cracked open, and the scales of the fish are found to be sticking in the clay, and the head is then broken off. The delicate flavor of the fish cooked in this way cannot be described. Some of the cooks have a habit of cutting a long gash along each side of the dorsal fin and inserting a slice of fat bacon. This adds greatly to the flavor of the fish.

"Another thing which makes the fish so fine in the woods is that they are generally cooked in a short time after coming out of the water. The cold streams keep the flesh firm and hard, making them far superior to the fish one gets in the cities."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Gibraltar is Crumbling.

The public is not aware that the great rock of Gibraltar is tumbling down—that its crumbling, rotting masses must be continually bound together with huge patches of masonry and cement.

Yet they who sail past Gibraltar cannot fail to notice on the eastern slope of the fortress enormous silver-colored patches gleaming in the sun. These patches in some cases thirty or forty feet square, are the proof of Gibraltar's disintegration. Of thick, strong cement, they keep huge spurs of the cliff's side from tumbling into the blue sea.

Sea captains, cruising in the Mediterranean, say that Gibraltar has been rotting and crumbling for many years, but that of late the disintegration has gone on at a faster rate than heretofore.

They say that the stone forming this imposing cliff is rotten stone, and that in a little while the phrase, "the strength of Gibraltar," will be meaningless.—Chicago Chronicle.

Stockings of Human Hair.

They are black stockings, thick, stiff, lustrous, and the price mark on them was $15.

"From China," said the dealer. "From Northern China. Every family has a few pairs of human hair stockings there. They are worn over the cotton stockings—they are too prickly to be worn next the skin—and, properly treated, they last a lifetime.

"The Chinese exporter who sold me these stockings said when a child's hair is shaved in Northern China the hair is preserved in a special hair box of lacquer. As soon as the box is full enough the hair is taken from it and a pair of stockings is woven. Such stockings have a sentimental, almost a religious value, and they are rarely parted with. It would be safe to bet that there are not six other pairs of hair stockings on sale in America.—Boston Post.

Englishwomen's Looks.

The Englishwoman may not unreasonably claim to be the best looking woman in the world. Of course, she would not pretend for a moment that all the essentials of good looks are in her possession; but when one comes to think that the women of no other nation manage to give such general satisfaction as Englishwomen, they may, I think, confidently the largest proportion of good looks, grace, and fascination to be found in any daughter of Eve all the world over.—The World.
